Los Angeles Herald

THE DAILY and WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

FRIDAY, NOV. 19, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

About ten hours steady rain fell in this valley on Wednesday night.

The rain has been quite heavy North of us. The rivers in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys are running full banks and still rising. The Merced river overflowed and damaged the railroad and telegraphing to the extent of rendering both inoperative for a short time.

The prospect is favorable for a close of the war in Spain at an early day.

Gulbord was buried without trouble.

It is still storming North.

The overland trains are all coming in before time on account of the storms.

It has rained almost steadily East of the Sierras since last Saturday.

The statement that the Crown Prince of Germany was coming to the United States is denied.

Joseph Halpin, a diamond merchant of Paris, has failed for the small sum of $300,000.

THE people of Virginia City are adopting precautionary measures against fire. They have learned a bitter lesson and intend to profit by its teachings. It is a pity these lessons to be effective must be taught by experience.

We believe the editor of the HERALD formerly edited a paper in Stockton. He knows how it is himself, and therefore refrains from speaking of the lunatics Stockton has turned loose on the rest of the State, including Los Angeles—Express.

We certainly have refrained as far as possible from allusion to the mental condition of the editors of the Express, and we read their appeal for the establishment of a branch Insane Asylum here with that commiseration one always feels for a mind diseased.

THE rain is coming in the most satisfactory manner this year. So far it has fallen gently, with little or no wind. The temperature has been so mild that the rain has in no way injured stock. From all parts of the valley we hear the most cheering reports. The farmers everywhere are jubilant, and the whole surface of the country is already covered with verdure. The weather-wise predict a prosperous season and bountiful crops.

Stock raisers of Southern California are heavy losers by the death of Mr. L. J. Rose's horse, "The Moor." Some of the finest horses in this valley are "The Moor's" colts. They are all, without exception, we believe, trotters, and some of them give promise of taking front rank among the fast trotters of the State. We notice that some of our local contemporaries place the value of "The Moor" at $5,000. This is much under his true worth; three times that sum would not have induced his owner to part with him. He was valued by Mr. Rose at $20,000 and to our raisers of fast trotters he was worth a great deal more money.

SAN FRANCISCO is inaugurating measures for the suppression of the opium dens established and frequented by the Chinese of that city. These Mongolian death pens are no doubt great promoters of vice and disease, but there is another class of dens found all over San Francisco that are a thousand times more damaging to public morals, more destructive to health and productive of more misery than those frequented by the Chinese. They are the back alley and cellar dens where laboring men spend their small means in the purchase of the most villainous of alcoholic drinks that ever maddened the brain of a human being. In these places are worse than squandered the means that should be, and but for them would be, expended for food and clothing for the ill clad and often hungry wife and children at home. It is into these low places the unwary countryman is enticed, and after being drugged with the poison sold as whisky is robbed of his little all and himself thrown upon the sidewalk. These are the dens that San Francisco should suppress. They are the direct source of much of her poverty and a great deal of her crime.

Tea gilded saloons do not bring so much actual want and privation to the poor woman and her children as one of these back alley dens.

Not What is Wanted.

It is noticeable that the recently elected United States Senators from Southern States are instructed or requested to use their influence toward securing the passage of the bill loaning the Government credit to the Texas Pacific Railroad to the amount of $35,000 or $40,000 per mile. The insinuation that these instructions were produced through the influence of Tom Scott and party would perhaps be met with the assertion that it was false by the backers and manipulators of the stupendous subsidy scheme. Yet it is more than probable that the influence was used and that it made itself felt through representatives that are not true and on promises that will never be verified. The people of the South need a transcontinental railroad and those of them who have not given the subject careful study are induced to believe that the Texas Pacific road will supply this great want. Such however is not the case. The road which Mr. Scott asks the government to build for him will only skirt the Southern States and become the outlet for the net work of roads of which the Pennsylvania Central is the nucleus. If Mr. Scott succeeds in passing his bill so far from giving the Southern States the road they want it will raise a barrier that will forever prevent their obtaining what they so earnestly desire. We apprehend the Senators who go to the Capitol pledged to support the bill will, before they cast their final vote, become possessed of information which will place the scheme in its true light before them and induce a final withdrawal of their support. It is hardly within the pale of possibilities that Congress will pledge the Government for the gigantic sum asked for in this modest bill, but it is an act of injustice to represent to the people of the South that this Texas Pacific proposition will give them what they so much need—a Southern Overland Railroad.

Wood and Coal

As we have ever had an eye for the public welfare, and as the winter season is now at hand, we take the liberty of saying a few words to our readers on the comparative merits of wood and coal for fuel. Where coal has never been used more extensively than in Los Angeles, there is liable to be prejudice against it. People look upon it with suspicion when studying home economy. They confound a ton of coal with a cord of wood, and give coal the "go-by" as an expensive luxury. The truth however is that one ton of coal is worth three cords of wood for simple ordinary burning purposes. In summer time perhaps, when the only family use for fires is for cooking wood may be the cheapest article, but in winter when the hearthstone must be lit all day long to render a house agreeable, coal is by far the cheapest, and as a matter of convenience, by far the most desirable. Wood varies in price from twelve to fifteen dollars per cord. The best Sidney coal, we understand will now be delivered in this city for about twenty dollars per ton. If one ton of coal is equal to but two cords of wood, quite a margin is left in favor of coal, even for family uses. For our foundries, hotels, water lifters etc., coal is by great odds cheaper than wood. As times are hard and money tight, we present these few observations to those who may desire to economize in the spirit of friendliness and good will.

Homicide.

The following details of an affair of which we have had some intimation by telegraph, we take from the San Diego World:

A dreadful affair occurred at the ranch of Mr. G. W. Webb, the State Water Commissioner, a Frenchman, whose name we have not learned, came suddenly and perhaps deservedly to his end at the hands of young Mr. Webb, his son, a drowsy lad, who was sleeping in a chair in the sunroom. The circumstances of the killing are as follows: Young Mr. Webb, during the night, sent one of his men to get him a man retreating who had been peering into the window of an inmate. Mr. Webb, thinking the man had gone, went to his room, and again, still half asleep, heard the noise, and again going to the door, with his gun, encountered a man, of whom he had no idea, and who was evidently a drowsy lad, who was sleeping in a chair in the sunroom. The man had in his hand a double-barreled gun, and cocking both barrels, approached Webb, who, not knowing who he was, turned and fled. His gun was a good one for shot the man through the head, and the bullet passed through his eye. Young Mr. Webb, who was a drowsy lad, was surrounded by his friends of the law, and will probably be examined so soon as the coroner's verdict is rendered. The coroner has been left for the scene of the killing this morning.

San Bernardino Items.

(From the Times Nov. 16th.) Several houses will be erected at Colton as soon as lots can be surveyed including a hotel, livery stable and store-house. For reasons best known to themselves the company have declined to sell lots heretofore, but we learn that probably there will be a sale in a short time when building will commence.

Mr. Johnson of the Santa Barbara Press has prolonged his stay in San Bernardino for the purpose of visiting points of interest in the valley. In company with Judge Boren he drove through the country to-day noting prominent objects and we have no doubt but that our valley will receive kindly mention in the columns of the Press.

Mr. Horace Clark started for Ivanpah this morning with a team belonging to the McFarlane Bros. Every report from the mines is of the most encouraging character and their successful development will not only enrich the owners but add greatly to the material prosperity of our county.

We learn that a large number of our farmers have already commenced plowing, sufficient rain having fallen to soften the ground in all parts of the valley. From present indications there will be a large area of land sown in grain this season.

Anaheim Items.

(From the Gazette, 17th inst.) Mr. John Bush brought in town two does, one buck and a fawn, killed in the Santiago mountains yesterday.

There are lively times at the blacksmith shops, pointing and repairing plows for active service.

A petition was circulated yesterday, addressed to E. E. Hewitt, Superintendent of the railroad, asking that the running time of the Anaheim train be changed so that it will leave Anaheim at 8 A. M. and arrive at 5 P. M.

The people of Anaheim, after having been used to communication with Los Angeles twice a day, cannot stand it even one day on half accommodation without complaining. How the San Diego people will stand it we cannot say, but it is thought it will be long before their big guns are fired in defense of their rights and privileges.

The Hartford Courant puts on air because it was 112 years old last Friday. It is old enough to behave better. It tries to tantalize its original subscribers by offering them the next year's subscription gratis. It knows they are beyond its reach.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Isaac Hauseon, Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repairs of the Navy Department will recommend in his annual report that the policy be adopted of building a certain number of vessels annually, of both iron and wood, until the American navy yet grow out of the troubles in Cuba, but it seems that those who are well informed see no reason at present to find any more serious trouble than there has been for the last six or seven years, except that every year the present condition of affairs continues to become a greater strain on our patience, and they do not believe that there will be a speedy recognition of Cuba as a belligerent. The provisions of the treaty of 1795 give Spain the right to search American merchant vessels for contraband articles. Diplomats have long insisted that this section alone has prevented the recognition of Cuban belligerency by the United States. So long as this section stands, if the United States should recognize Cuba every American merchant vessel will be compelled by the treaty to submit to the inquisitive search of Spanish frigates. If this section should be abrogated, one great obstacle to the recognition of Cuba will be removed. The fitting out of vessels of war just at this time is probably ordered more for effect than because it is expected there will be any immediate use for them.

The country as far as can be seen is overflowed. It is raining hard with prospects of a stormy night.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM SPAIN.

MADRID, Nov. 18.—The fact that Don Carlos has sent a letter to the King has created a great sensation here, and is variously commented upon by the papers.

HENDAYE, Nov. 18.—Intelligence from Carlist sources asserts that the letter of Don Carlos to the King did not name any proposals for an arrangement, but offered to agree to a truce should the Carlist difficulties be removed by war with Spain and the United States. In that case Don Carlos, while reserving his rights to the throne of Spain, offers to unite his forces with those of King Alfonso to defend the integrity of Spanish territory.

Mr. D. C. Sullivan, member of the Assembly from San Francisco, who has been on a visit of several days starts home to-day per steamer.

The City of Paris—Eugene Meyer & Co.—yesterday received a large invoice of toys and fancy goods in original packages direct from Paris.

Among the improvements is a fine brick building to be built by Mr. Chas Brode, next to his present residence, and cold alternately he, however, created quite a warmth by insisting on a second hearing, which the Chairman refused him. The Institute, being appealed to, decided to hear Mr. Saxon, who thereupon held forth upon the case of embezzlement and in-jury to Mr. Christopher, charged with embezzlement, on account of absence of the principal witness.

The remaining charges we have dismissed, and return the papers into court properly endorsed.

We have also examined into the state of the County Jail and Hospital.

In the case of the former, we find it in good condition as the character of the犯人 is without flaw.

We follow the example of former Grand Juries in recommending better accommodations for prisoners and the erection of better public buildings as soon as possible.

The County Hospital we find to be kept in a praiseworthy manner.

E. M. SANFORD, Foreman.
